4. In case of emergencies such as flood, storms, fires, riots, etc., the storage facility is entitled to arrange for a contractor to repair your unit.
5. You will have notice prior to a rent increase.
6. You cannot remove your items until you pay all of your rent, taxes, fees, etc. Be aware that interest may also be charged on what you owe.
7. You will be allowed access to your goods 24 hours a day, 7 days a week - unless notified from Clark and Deacon for any reason that would not permit you from entering due to safety, damage, etc.
8. Your items will be removed on whatever date you agree upon. If there is no specified date when you sign your contract, you will need to give the storage facility notice (a certain number of days determined by the facility).
9. If you do not pay your rent, the storage company has the right to sell or dispose of your items at your expense. Usually you have the same amount of days grace period that you do for other things on the contract.
